

Vanilla Ninja, When The Indians Cry

Babe, tell me where
Will you sleep tonight
For there's such a pain in my heart
And I got a flame
That's dying inside
And I feel that we soon
Have to part

When the indians cry
And the eagles die
Cause the winds of change blow again
Then I know that you
Turn the world into blue
And my tears will fall like the rain

Love can be so cruel
When the light of hope is gone
I know cause I felt it before
In the desert of fear
I can hear the soal song
Of a love that won't live anymore

When the indians cry
And the eagles die
Cause the winds of change blow again
Then I know that you
Turn the world into blue
And my tears will fall like the rain

When the indians cry

When the indians cry
And the eagles die
Cause the winds of change blow again
Then I know that you
Turn the world into blue
And my tears will fall like the rain

Then I know that you
Turn the world into blue
Then I know that you
Turn the world into blue
And my tears will fall like the rain
Oh, like the rain
