

Vanilla Sky, Unfriend

I remember when they told me that I'd have never been a star
I remember all the tears of my youngest broken heart
I was sick of the way I was feeling everyday
And pretending to be strong when I was hiding my pain

I won't give up just to make you smile
And break all my dreams just to fill your glory
I just want you away from me
To live my own life

I remember when they used to say "Life's gonna break you down"
I remember my best friend suffering for me again
All their faces and the places corner me against the wall
I feel life is passing me by so all I gotta do is to hold on

I won't give up just to make you smile
And break all my dreams just to fill your glory
I just want you away from me
To live my own life

Staring at you
I die inside
Please let me breathe
You're just killing me
Slipping so far
I'll save my heart
I won't lose again
You are my "Unfriend";

I won't give up just to make you smile
And break all my dreams just to fill your glory
I just want you away from me
To live my own life
