

VAST, Desert Garden

do, you feel like i do tired of everything can, you feel what i can almost everything

i want to leave today
the sky is big and my life is small i want to leave with you so we can build a perfect garden the stars are far away

i can see them with my eyes we wash our fears away like the moments of our lives

sky is big and my life is small
i want to leave with you so we can build a desert garden strange how the houses look exactly all the same and your just a slave like me atleast i know its true
