

Vaughan Penn, Ready To Rise

{{Song|Vaughan Penn|star=Green}}

&lt;Rise up off the ground where you lay

You've been laying there so long that you just about have forgotten how to live your life

Well, you can't find where you belong

No, you can't find where you fit in

Don't you think it's time you gave your life a chance again

You're ready to rise

You're ready to rise

You're ready to rise

You're ready to rise

Tear down all the walls that surround you

The walls that cloud your mind to reality from what you see and what's really going on

Break away. Yeah, leave today

Throw all the old past pain away

Don't you think it's time you thought about somebody besides yourself

You're ready to rise

You're ready to rise

You're ready to rise

You're ready to rise

You're ready to rise

You're ready to go

You've been watching your life like a movie show

You're to rock you're ready to roll

Break it down and take it real slow

Don't you know.&gt;
