Vaughan Penn, Ready To Rise

{{Song||Vaughan Penn|star=Green}} < Rise up off the ground where you lay You've been laying there so long that you just about have forgotten how to live your life Well, you can't find where you belong No. you can't find where you fit in Don't' you think it's time you gave your life a chance again You're ready to rise You're ready to rise You're ready to rise You're ready to rise Tear down all the walls that surround you The walls that cloud your mind to reality from what you see and what's really going on Break away. Yeah, leave today Throw all the old past pain away Don't you think it's time you thought about somebody besides yourself You're ready to rise You're ready to go You've been watching your life like a movie show You're to rock you're ready to roll Break it down and take it real slow Don't you know.> </lyrics&gt; {{SongFooter artist = Vaughan Penn |album = song = Ready To RisefLetter = R |video =
