

Vaux, At Your Will

You look awake and I can't let go.
But those eyes are blank, and you can't be free from yourself.
A room dressed in white, but you'll never know.
I stand by your side. And you can't be free from yourself.

And all it s well that ends well, alright.
As car pass by all night.
And I can see you right, but you can't.

Stick the tubes all the way in.
To fill you up again.
And I'll be there at the end. At your will.

You look awake and I can't let go.
But those eyes are blank, and you can't be free from yourself.
A room dressed in white, but you'll never know.
I, stand at your side. And you can