

Veda, Song For A Friend

does she linger in the air that follows you home each day do you ever stop and stare at yourself for traces of her can a picture bring some comfort where a song melody leaves off is she silently rocking you to sleep 'cause i hope and i pray i'll see a bit of that light in my world today it would be an injustice not to see that kind of love live on what kept your eyes up kept your world from falling darkness chokes, but you found a way out may i say your words are insight something unique hold on my friend she's rocking you out of here
