

Velasquez Regine, Sharing The Same Dreams

we found each other but little did we know that in truth, my sisters togetherness can make love grow we're always better together than when we're apart we're sharing the same dreams in our hearts we're sharin'
sharin' the same dreams
yes! you and me
and good things good things will happen if we wait, wait and see we'll make it together sink or swim and neither one of us will be out on alimb
we're sharin', sharin' the same dreams
we may be different but then that's who we are just remember my sisters we're reachin' for that lucky star we share the same joy and laughter sadness and tears we're stayin' together for years and years.
