

Velvet Belly, Between The Words

We chose each other
I can still recall the day
There were things in your eyes
Things I was so glad to recognize

More important
Than what you say
Are the things
You would never say
Somewhere in the silence
Between the spoken words
In a little nook
Something's hidden there

We chose each other
So don't let me down
You know for me
There would be no greater pain
Than to lose you

More important
Than what you say
Are the things
You will never say
Somewhere in the silence
Between the spoken words
In a little nook
Something's hidden there
