

Velvet Belly, Fast And Far Away

music : Velvet Belly / Erik Honore

lyrics : Anne-Marie Almedal

What you miss
Is to dream of a life waiting for you
And a curious mind when something is new
What you miss
Is to unfold in a thought of how it's gonna be
When you get old enough to see

Time has taken us all
Too fast and far away
But the dream lingers on
Day by day

Sometimes you try
To capture what's left of a vision you once had
But it only makes you feel so sad
If you could only stop
This longing for things that were never meant to be
And tell me then what you will see

Time has taken your life
Too fast and too far away
But the dream lingers on
Day by day
