

Veneria, Peace

It's never been my intention to purposely shun none of the people around me but now 've finally realized I'm all on my own i've always had the opinion that if I can live with myself somebody else can do as well but now I'm sittin' in my room and I don't feel at home when I'm in a crowd how come I feel so alone?
every place feels like home when I'm alone
I've got no peace of mind
the bigger the population the fewer you can see you really know it's an obvious paradox or at least it should I've lost most of my visions but sometimes fore I go to sleep I swear I see eternity and it doesn't scare me though I wish it would
