

Veneria, The Losing End Of Punk

That was the fad, punk's unfashionable again
We're still as bad and we still enjoy playing and singing our stupid songs

Hoping to right our wrongs, we've been in the business way too long

What we got is songs, each other, time and motivation x2
To stay on and on and on, on and on and on the losing end of punk
In '91, all our heavy metal covers were gone
In '94, Hullabaloo (our first cd) came out and we still sounded sore
In '97, we went on our fifth unpacked European tour
Now it's 2000 and no one wants us anymore (repeat chorus)