

Venus 5, Because Of You

Never gonna be the same
Did you lose your pride
Like a distant memory
You are off my mind

As my life re-starts
With a broken heart

And I know it's all is because of you
How am I about to leap this through
It's all because of you
You caught me with an attitude
It's all because of you

Don't pretend to be my friend
You've crossed the line
Our past I reprehend
Like a cheap red-wine

Now you want me back
Poison black

And I know it's all is because of you
How am I about to leap this through
It's all because of you
You caught me with an attitude
It's all because of you

I'll throw you in the fire
You'll never run away
A needle in your heart
Cause my pain to go away
Cause you're a little liar
A puppet on a string
You want me to forgive you
You better give it up

And I know it's all is because of you
How am I about to leap this through
It's all because of you
You caught me with an attitude
It's all because of you
