

Venus In Flames, Laughing Disease

Baby why don't you say something to me
It's quite clear your mystery cannot be revealed

Maybe I should try to listen carefully
Whenever you're saying something sweet to me

Hunt your soul
Drag your heart through the gutter please
If you still think life can be one big laughing disease

Maybe I should try to listen carefully
Whenever you're saying something sweet to me