

Venus Outback, Pious

Hope tomorrow
Cause the mornings I have killed
With Sorrow
And hopeless thoughts
Of battles I've fought
Drugged on halos
And the storms that make me high
And stay low
I guess you never knew
It's the loss of you
(And me)

I'm going through changes right now
I'm going to change us now
For all that it's worth I've won
My pious one

Face the sunrise
While the young one takes its form
The old one dies
It's a silent death
It's a silent breath
As time flies by
I have learned it from my pious one
It's the deepest love that counts
For all kinds of mankind

I'm going through changes right now
I'm going to change us now
For all that it's worth I've won
My pious one
I'm going through changes right now
I'm going to change us now
For all that it's worth I've won
My pious one
You gave birth to my pious sun
To bring you light
