

Vermillion Lies, I Should Fly

I've been thinking for a while, that I should fly
Tired of walking on my feet, their so tired, their so tired
The branch is low and the ground is hard and the view's much nicer from the sky
From up in the sky, they're just people, but from here they're liars, cheaters and thieves. X2
I've been thinking for a while, that I should fly X2
From up in the sky I can't see your lies, I can't see right through your lies.
From up in the sky I can think you are wise, but from here I'd rather be blind
From up in the sky, they're just people, but from here they're liars, cheaters and thieves. X2
I've been thinking for a while, that I should fly X2
