

Vertigo Angels, Out Of My Mind

i watch you move the sky i never ask you why you made the stars collide they never ask you why i pull the thorn out of my side i need escape from what's inside because the bitterness won't die
just get out get out get out of my mind in silence watching the sky you never asked me why my bubble's floating too high you never asked me why i watch you like a trick what should i make of it?
get out get out get out get out
get out get out get out get out
'cause i can't solve you and you can't solve me and i can't cure you and you can't cure me
i pull the thorn out of my side i need escape from what's inside because the bitterness won't die
get out get out get out get out of my mind
