

Victims Family, Balderdash

the music industry pumps through your head all the stale trite clichés that you want to be fed all the violent garbage and the macho trash and now i'm here to tell you that it's balderdash some people look around and they don't like what they see stale singers whining something 'bout some birds and some bees i think that what they need's a swift kick in the ass i need to hear something obnoxious and fast so you cut off your hair and you're ripping your clothes and we all try to look as if a pose ain't a pose i think that what we need's a swift kick in the ass i need to hear something that's gonna last and so you walk into this club and you're lookin' at me and you look a little longer and you don't like what you see and now you want to leave and you got to go because my hair's too long and this song's too slow commercial radio has killed rock'n'roll with their pretty boys in pretty suits that got no soul
i think that what they need's a swift kick in the ass
i need to hear something that's gonna last and now you wanna leave and you got to go because my hair's too long and my song's too slow