

Vienna Teng, I Don't Feel So Well

i don't feel so well.
i thought that you should know
that i don't feel so well
before you fall
i don't call them back
that i don't call them back
before you fall
i saw it begin to dawn on us both
and somehow it wasn't suprising and so you're preparing to swear every oath but all the while i'm realizing i can't love you there
that i can't love you there
before you fall [instrumental]
and somehow it wasn't suprising
but all the while i'm realizing
i thought that you should know
before you fall
