

Virgin Steele, Tragedy

[Music: De Feis/Pursino, lyrics: De Feis]

Who's to say, who is to blame
Who killed our love
I can see the lines are drawn
Broken hearts and broken dreams
Drifting worlds apart
The lies are old, the scars are warm

I don't wanna lose your love now babe
'Cause I feel that's when I'm with you it's alright
Then I fall for your touch

[Chorus:]
Tragedy- a broken love
Fallen dreams are on the ground
Tragedy- our love is pain, oh babe our love is pain

When you make love do you think of
Does he looks like me, does he do the things I do
A shattered glass, a broken rose
Blood runs from my soul
Still you wound but never slay

It's so lonely, so lonely
It's killing me babe...
Everyday...
Nothing left...
Nothing left at all to say..
