

Virginia Coalition, By & By

Well you're probably right
You're probably in control
They probably watch you walk away
Well a line is just a line
But when you turn it all it's just another line again
I figure it's all there is to say

I wonder what you're doing here
I wonder what you're hiding under there
I wonder what you do when you get lonely
This is the part that you can't get right
And this is the part that your girlfriend likes
Wouldn't have it any other way

When you're moving mountains but you don't know why
And you're chasing heaven down the by and by
Wait another hour won't you
Get a little bit louder for me
Take a little bit with you when you're gone, gone, gone, gone

You look at the world around you
You look at the television
You look at the things that make you larger
This is the part that you can't get right
And this is the part that your girlfriend likes
Wouldn't have it any other way

When you're moving mountains but you don't know why
And you're chasing heaven down the by and by
Wait another hour won't you
Get a little bit louder for me
Take a little bit with you when you're gone, gone, gone, gone
When you're gone, gone, gone, gone, gone
