

Virgos Merlot, Wrong

So now you know
I'll spill my guts and spoil the show
I thought I stirred up quite a mess
But cleaning up just causes even more distress

Did the only thing I knew to do
But having faith in something does not make it true

But I forced it for so long I knew I had it wrong
Much too proud to let it go and I knew I had it wrong

I forgot who
When or what it was that made me change my tune

Did the only thing I knew to do
But having faith in something does not make it true

But I forced it for so long and I knew I had it wrong
Much too proud to let it go and I knew I had it wrong

Wasted pieces of life
So now you know
Stretching inches into miles and miles
So now you know
I pull the blanket from my eyes
So now you know
Cut the ropes and free the lies

But I forced it for so long and I knew I had it wrong
Much too proud to let it go and I knew I had it wrong
Yeah I forced it for so long

And I knew I had it wrong
Much too proud to let it go
And I knew I had it wrong
But I forced it for so long
I knew I had it wrong...
