

Virus, Know It All

When it's all been said and done
And you're out there on your own
And no one's looking out for you
Like when you lived at home
But at the age of sixteen you thought you knew it all
Hey piss off mom and dad cause I feel pushed against a wall

So when you think that you know it all and you're rushing to grow up
Don't alienate those that matter cause you might just push your luck

After a few weeks of being on your own
You found it wasn't as easy as when you lived at home
You miss the free food and your dad's fancy car
And you're looking at yourself and you don't know who are

So when you think that you know it all and you're rushing to grow up
Don't alienate those that matter cause you might just push your luck
