

Volbeat, Mindlock

Sacrificed all of the things that became alive
Embracing the feeling I knew that I had inside
The mind is a beautiful servant that intimidates
The corner of good and evil in your memories

Life is so easy to satisfy
Building a castle, I feel like a child
Leave out the ones that make you feel down

Life is so easy to satisfy
Building a castle, I feel like a child
Leave out the ones that make you feel down

'Cause the mind is everything what you'd think you had become Don't let it fool you, the soul will now carry on
Be the kind who leaves a mark and not a scar
You'll find the peace and the balance that you're looking for

Life is so easy to satisfy
Building a castle, I feel like a child
Leave out the ones that make you feel down

Life is so easy to satisfy
Building a castle, I feel like a child
Leave out the ones that make you feel down

Clenching the thoughts that forever were Haunting the shadows into the gloomy dark
Burn them forever more

Do you feel alive?
Leaving it all, now you're going home
Open your eyes that shine
The bliss will now open your mind

Life is so easy to satisfy
Building a castle, I feel like a child
Leave out the ones that make you feel down

Life is so easy to satisfy
Building a castle, I feel like a child
Leave out the ones that make you feel down
