

Von Herten Brothers, Open Water Stormy Weather

open water

people oh people how sad oh how sad your ego and envy oh people oh people so cold oh so cold you're all feeling empty and alone people oh people no way there's no way you're safe in this riot oh people oh people whatever you say we fail to be quiet and behave life is an opportunity for you and for me to define harmony

life is an opportunity to throw away the key to your negativity

people oh people now when will you learn?
oh people oh people you have to return back to nature

'cause life is an opportunity to realize that yes there's something real behind the glitter oh yes there's something sweet under the bitter 'cause i have seen this world and it's a well it's a god damn gutter
