

Vonda Shepard, By Seven Thirty

I have been lost in this verbal rain
I went to bed feeling no pain
I was drowning in my wine
You're my thoughts
You're my silence
My sense of time

corus
By seven thirty you'll fall in love with me
Do you believe in destiny
Destiny
By seven thirty

Maybe your loves an uncrackable code
Or maybe your love is a rail road
That you ride when you're all alone
And you speed down the tracks to what you call home

corus
By seven thirty you'll fall in love with me
Do you believe in destiny
Destiny
By seven thirty

Quite unsuttle these thoughts you send me
Or is it I who sends them unrecieved
And they fly thru the air at enormous speed
Like a boomerang flying back at me
