

Voyager, To The Morning Light

Stand before the line
Stand before the line
Freed through emotions of greed
Stand before the line
Stand before the line
Stand before the line of fear
Cold at heart, cold in mind
Every night a different sky
You and me, finally
Shall we dance to eternity
Shall we dance
Shall we dance to the morning light?
I break the ice and time stands still i overcome the iron will Embrace the floods inside of me the flowing waters set me free
Shall we dance to the morning light?
