

Wakefield, Shrine

i am in circles, you're a straight line you are the fix i'd hope to find and people can be so all that i want now is not to change you are the hope you will stay the same and people can let go

i like to keep your pictures candle lit
i need you to be someone i worship might be to hard to handle if you were mine and that is why i built this shrine i keep my distance, everything's clear and there are no words i need to hear it's better for both of us and all that i want now is not stray i need the strength you radiate it's something i can trust

might be to hard to handle if you were mine

it's everything i never told you and i don't ever need to own you i don't ever want to hold you until you die so don't don't don't

i think you could be someone i worship
might be to hard to handle if you were mine

might be to hard to handle if you were mine
