

Wakeshima Kanon, Wings to fly

Want to spread my wings and fly
Away into the sky
How I dream to be so free
No more sadness no more pain
No more anger no more hate
How I dream to have those wings and fly into the sky
If now, I could grant my wish
I'd wish to have those wings
Those wings just like the birds
That fly up in the air
So high up in the air
With feathers bright and fair
Nor wealth nor power can make
My heart filled with such joy
Want to spread my wings and fly
Away into the sky
How i dream to be so free
No more sadness no more pain
No more anger no more hate
How I dream to have those wings and fly into the sky
