

Waking Ashland, Overjoyed

I see frustration upon your face
Tired eyes
Won't you just rest with me
I'll make you complete again
I saw the beauty in your soul
The way you are
Can't you just see the moon smiling at you tonight
And what will define you?

I'm overjoyed yeah
Overjoyed to be with you
Overcame doubts
Overcame and fell for you

I see two roads ahead of you
One is wide, the other is narrow and long
Which is the one you'll choose?
Together we're walking side by side
I will fall and you will rescue me through all my darkest times
And what will define you?

Cause I want to know you
I want to give you all I can
I want to know you
I want to someday understand

And it's all for you
Yeah, who you going to be, who you going to be?
Always there through the rough times
And you're always there when no one else cares, no one else cares
Always there
