

Waking Ashland, You'll Sing Me To Sleep

There is something watching, waiting
There is something passing, casting the shadows
How they make their way into my mind

And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently
And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me
and I'm not alone

There is something shining, calling my name
And who are you, what do you want
I'll claim nothing when you're whispering
The truth has made its way into my head

And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently
And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently
And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently
And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently and I'm not alone (oohhh) now I see (oohhh)

And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently
And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently
And I'm not alone
And I'm not alone
And I'm not alone
