Waking Ashland, You'll Sing Me To Sleep

There is something watching, waiting Thers is something passing, casting the shadows How they make their way into my mind

And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me and I'm not alone

There is something shining, calling my name And who are you, what do you want I'll claim nothing when you're whispering The truth has made it's way into me head

And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently and l'm not alone (oohhh) now I see (oohhh)

And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently And you'll sing me to sleep you'll sing to me gently And I'm not alone And I'm not alone And I'm not alone
