

Walls Of Jericho, Collection On A Debt

Ignorance has filled your mind and actions
While you watch me go through this hell
That you've taught me I've lied awake
The feeling of your atrocities on me
My pain is endless as you stare
A five years old stares back
Your masculinity has destroyed my true intentions
Now i must repay you with the pain you've given us
We will not let something so wrong become so normal
I will not stand alone
We walk hand in hand to take you down
You have ruined my innocent beliefs
