Waltari, Every Bad Day

Coz you know darling you're locking out yourself The shadows of the night are still calling You're dreaming and peeping in your corner where there's no-one listening

I wanna take you where the evil cannot reach where we can stay together forever Just step out, be brave and fight the power 'till it will let you go

Doesn't really matter what you do coz everything you do is in your mood coz you're human you can't hide yourself and every bad day is good

You'll get attention if you walk brightly on a street and you really know what you want please, don't let them fool on you you have a right to be whatever you are

Don't wanna hurt you just wanna stay here by you side do not mind where thery lead you!
You know your own way and together we'll stay proud and free!

Doesn't really matter what you do
coz everything you do is in your mood
coz you're human you can't hide yourself
