

Waltari, Love Rocket

Coz you life is getting thin coz you don't know why you are in it all begins to fall and a desert mind is coming in

I came to heal you mind and we are two of a kind then we'll begin to shine and we'll observe not only hell

Love is all around
listen to the sound
Everywhere it begins to be heard
It's my final word for you, it's true

I am a love rocket flying away, away from this pain
I am a love rocket flying away, flying to play
flying my way

Every pleasure is not right and small hunger keeps you tight Your mind begins to feel clear, and it feels like you're near, forever close

Every single day makes me want to say that when I will begin to shine then I'll live my life for only you, it's true

I am a love rocket flying away, away from this pain
I am a love rocket flying away, flying to play
flying my way

Love is all around
listen to the sound
Everywhere it begins to be heard
It's my final word for you, it's true

I am a love rocket flying away, flying to play
flying my way

Distance won't keep us apart and we are in each other's hearts and if you know what you want, you'll be fullskilled for everything
