

Wanda Jackson, Famous Last Words

Now I'm the girl who said that love was not for me
I like the kind of life I live fancy free
I play the field to love 'em leave 'em where they fall
Can't see love 'em one when I can't love 'em all
But these were the famous last words from the lips of a fool
Famous last words that broke every rule
And now I have no one except myself to blame
When I fell in love I lost at my own game
(guitar)
I wanna store up mem'ries for a rainy day
Leave a string of broken hearts along the way
I'll go on cheatin' and lie with every kiss
I'm not the kind of fool to change a life like this
But these were the famous last words...
When I fell in love I lost at my own game
