

Wanda Jackson, I'm gonna walk out of your life

I'm gonna walk out of your life just like you walked into mine
There's no use in staying any longer everything's been said and now it's done
Funny but I thought I'd feel much stronger now I'm breaking into pieces one by one
I'm gonna walk out of your life just like you walked into mine
Gonna keep all the mem'ries that you left behind
So hold me for a moment hold me for the last time
I'm gonna walk out of your life just like you walked into mine
Everybody told me what would happen when I first fell in love with you
Love is blind and now I find you're leaving so I'll pay the price just like all losers do
I'm gonna walk out of your life...
So hold me for a moment...
