

Wanda Jackson, Reckless Love Affair

Now we're the victims of a reckless love affair
We met by chance we were both feeling blue I belong to him she belongs to you
We knew it was wrong but we didn't care
Now we're the victims of a reckless love affair
We're the victims of a reckless love affair two broken hearts now lie here in despair
There's no use to pretend we both knew how it would end
Now we're the victims of a reckless love affair
(steel)
We call on the phone make plans for tonight
We're foolin' our hearts for wrong isn't right
There's no other love that we'd rather share
For we're the victims of a reckless love affair
We're the victims...
