

Wanda Jackson, Slippin

Slippin' I feel your love slippin' away
You're growing colder each day I know I'm losing you
Drifting somehow we keep drifting apart
I'm losing my place in your heart inspite of all I can do
Loneliness I feel in every kiss and when you're holding me you seem far away
Wishing somehow I could find you again
And bring your love back once again but you keep slippin' away
Loneliness I feel in every kiss...
