

Wanderers, They Made Me A Criminal

they made him a criminal yeah that's what he am he didn't really want to be desperado of man he tried to turn the nation you seen him on every station he keeps saying "son, it's alright"; someone had to play the part show us things as they are we were so locked up in fright he had to take it this far he didn't mean to grap that weapon he didn't mean to kill no one
he keeps saying "son, it's alright.";
strike out - when you're feelin lonely hit out - when you're the one and only blow up - when everything in phoney they made me a criminal a television terrorist the only news of the world darling of the media the coolest thing since errol flynn did you see him on russel harty he's bigger than the government party they set him free 'cause son it's alright
