

Wang Chung, Big World

(Jack Hues)

You woke me from my sleep we quietly crept
Outside

This memory I'll keep of bitter crimson

Winter sunrise lost in the icy silence

Our warm breath fading in the air

I'm not sure why I tell you still less what I mean

It's like a dream and maybe there's no cause

But in the end it's

What you can give to someone

How you can help to set them free

Chorus:

Big world is turning as we dream tonight

Big world we've got so out of tune with you

Now we have to put it right

Big world help us through

Get us through the night

This world is wounded now and we inflict

The pain

We have to change our lives and think again

'Cause in the end it's

All that we're sure we're made of

All that we know to set us free

Repeat Chorus

Keep on rolling through the night

'Cause the big world is never gonna let you down

If we learn to treat her right

Then the big world is never gonna let us down
