

Wang Chung, Games Of Power

(Nick Feldman)

I don't wanna play these games of power

I don't wanna fight this war no more

Don't wanna twist the knife

Just wanna better life for me & you & me & you

Chorus:

Is this what you call love

Is this what we've been fighting for

Is this what you call love

There must be so much more

Is this what you call love

Forget old scores we should be making love

Not war

Make love not war

Gotta try to break this vicious circle

Gotta find the love we've nearly lost

It's time to stop the pain

We've played the blaming game for far too long

For far too long

Repeat Chorus

You hurt me then I hurt you a bit more

Is this the love to end all the wars

We gotta escape this no man's land

And throw away all our battle plans

Oh yeah all right...

Oh yeah all right...

Oh yeah all right...

Oh yeah all right...

Is this what you call love

Is this what we've been fighting for

Is this what you call love

Is this what we've been fighting for

Is this what you call love

There must be so much more

This fight is not for us

Forget old scores we should be making love

Not war

Make love not war

Forget old scores we should be making love

Not war

Make love not war