

War of Words, Terror Attack

it's time. you still can't fathom why by land or by sea or by air we don't care you will pay for you greed with your lives sacrifice for god and country a familiar cause indeed does thought cross your mind and does it occur when you suffer you suffer the hate of the rest of the world terror attack on the chosen kind terror attack are you asking why terror attack many more will die terror attack and you better run for your lives