

Warhammer, Necrophobia

(Lyrics by Volker Frerich)
(Music by F. Krynojewski)

Have you ever been so scared
That you nearly couldn't breathe anymore?
The fear of the unknown
And also of what's sure to come

REFRAIN:

Necrophobia - the ultimate paradox
Death gives meaning to all living creatures
Necrophobia - life's questions unanswered
Death's the ultimate reason to exist

The shivering of the body
Reaches unbearable dimensions
You freeze, and at the same time
You're burning up inside

The black hole seems like a fever dream
Unable to recognize the most certain things
I fear the reaper coming nearer and nearer
But I invited him myself for dubious reasons

When you cannot sleep
The mind begins its' tyranny
In the end, the fear makes you think
About taking your own life
