

Warner Mack, Blue Kentucky Boy

Yes I left you for the bright lights of the town searching for a magic world of joy
But when a million city lights go down they're shining down on a blue Kentucky boy
Oh how I'm missing you and long to kiss you
To hold you now would bring me so much joy
I miss the fields of blue grass web with you
And the one who's blue for this blue Kentucky boy
(ac.guitar)
I'll soon be on my way back home to you for here my heart is like a broken toy
I know the moon will shine the whole night through
To light the way for your blue Kentucky boy
Oh how I'm missing you...
