

Warner Mack, There Ain't No Woman Enough (To

Oh don't believe this woman that's telling you these things
I only seen her once or twice and hardly know her name
Please darling listen and try to understand
That there ain't no woman enough to take your man
She could never be the woman you are they don't make 'em anymore
And you must know I love you cause you're whole I'm living for
So don't worry bout it honey I trace passin' on your laugh
Cause there ain't no woman enough to take your man
(dobro)
What makes you think I'd look at her when there's nothing there to see
That painted face that she wears don't mean a thing to me
There ain't no one that gets to me just the way you can
And there ain't no woman enough to take your man
She could never be...
No there ain't no woman enough to take your man
