

Warner Mack, Way It Feels To Die

You never even gave me any warning just came right up to me and said goodbye
Oh what a thought to know that I'm losing you this must be the way it feels to die
I know my heart stopped beating when you told me
Couldn't even catch my breath to say goodbye
There can't be anything in life that hurts this way this must be the way it feels to die ( steel )
You tore my dreams in tiny little pieces destroyed them in a twinkling of an eye
This pain I feel just can't be part of living this must be the way it feels to die
I know my heart stopped beating...
