

Warner Mack, You're Always Turnin' Up Again

You're always turnin' up again I'm always fallin' down
I keep buildin' world on promises that never will come true
Cause you're gonna keep on hurtin' me finding someone new
It seems I've spent a lifetime tryin' to find some place to hide
But I could lose your memory and my love for you would die
But you're always turnin' up again and I'm always fallin' down
Right back in your arms I led everytime you come around
Again my heart is spinnin' free believe in all you say to me
You're always turnin' up again I'm always fallin' down
( steel )
Nothing seems to take your place no matter what I do
Each path I take is just in vain or every road leads back to you
Just when I think I'm on my feet and it looks like I might win
I lose my build up courage just seeing you again
Cause you're always turnin'...
Yes you're always turnin' up again I'm always fallin' down
