

Warzone, The Sound Of Revolution

The sound of revolution

It's coming again from the streets

A lion's roar, a tribal beat

It's time for you to give a hand

And fight the battle to the promised land

The sound of
revolution

The youth are getting restless

But now there's many more

Living in the streets

Times are worse than before

Now you know it's time to make a move

If you do nothing, then you all lose

The sound of

The line's been drawn, the battle's clear

It's time for pride and no more fear

The revolution now is in your heart

And together we have a part

revolution
