

Watashi Wa, The Wrong Kind

That isn't love that you have
It's just like on the TV
Or maybe on a movie
It's love that leaves you there, empty
Know that that's not love you see
It's love that leaves you there, empty

Love isn't a fading word that one might say
Love isn't a long, long kiss or something that you make
Love never, ever seeks itself
It serves when been spat on
Even in bad health
'Cause you love her for what you get
You've loved a long time, but that's the wrong kind

We see it almost everywhere
Does fashion own morality?
It's love that's in the movies
A love that leaves you there, empty
Know that that's not love you see
A love that leaves you there, empty

So are you listening, I've got so much to say
You've gotta understand that love isn't this way
Love lasts more than one day
Sex mass marketing, it's in the magazines
It's in society, in the majority
That's not love that you see
Oh
